TELLS OF WORK WITH RETARDED CHILDREN HERE

"The things most needed for the pupils in my class are acceptance, approval and love. The reason they are in my particular class is because they have had the unhappy experience of failure, frustration and rejection," said Mrs. Granville R. Schultz, teacher of special education in the Gettysburg public schools, in an address at a meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Annie M. Warner Hospital Monday afternoon in the board room at the hospital. Mrs. Schultz has 12 boys and 6 girls between the ages of 10 and 13 in her class, with a slower developmental rate of learning.

In describing "A Day with Special Education," Mrs. Schultz pointed out the similarities between her class and that of the average room, and then the areas in which the work is so unlike that of the average room.

Follow Standard Program
"The important factor in working with these students is to have them working on a level that they can do with ease," said Mrs. Schultz, who impressed her listeners with the patience and great understanding she has for her work.

Each phase of their education is functional, in that the one subject works into another, and she pointed out that much of the teaching is done at the time a situation arises that makes that teaching practical. The course of study is the same as that of any other classroom, reading, spelling, arithmetic, science, health, and social studies.

Many organizations in town have made donation of material and supplies to the class; in writing the thank-you notes for these, the students learn language skills, penmanship, spelling, and social behavior. Each student writes such a note, and the best one is chosen as the one to be sent.

Cites Number Skills
"I can't do that," a familiar statement from each student at the beginning of the school year "has almost disappeared from the room as each child discovers with a little help and encouragement, and much praise, he really can do something that is accepted and admired by others."

While number skills seem to be the most difficult for most of the students, Mrs. Schultz has learned that it is a little easier for them to understand when put on the practical level of measuring and figuring for the many crafts have learned to do.

Mrs. Schultz cited the example of functional education with a Jell-o project. In bringing a box of Jell-o to the class, she found many practical subjects could be discussed freely and with understanding. They read the directions for making it, and then studied the spelling of the words that made up these directions; new words, such as Jell-o molds, became a working part of their vocabulary; the price and the measuring of the ingredients provided an arithmetic problem; the science class took over the discussion of the temperatures at which it would set, the temperature outside, and the temperature of a refrigerator. The social behavior problem was easily mastered in the setting of the table, the learning of the meaning of the blessing and the social etiquette involved in eating with a group socially.

Field Trips In Town
The class knows relatively little of the actual layout of Gettysburg. Mrs. Schultz said she hopes to have many field trips through the borough as soon as weather permits. The trips she has made have proven of great value to the pupils.

Mrs. Schultz showed a number of samples of the crafts and handwork made by members of her class. In the classroom they have many tools with which to make their projects, including a sewing machine. Unusual abilities are shown in all these crafts she said and surprised her audience with the announcement that, as a general rule, the boys have shown more interest in sewing than the girls, and had some excellent examples of the sewing skill to show.

Mrs. Schultz cited several persons who have been generous in supplying materials to the class. Among these were Leroy Smith, for children's magazines; Frank Bowersox, pieces of cloth and trimmings; John Reiner, pieces of tile; Clark Smith, lumber; Blosser Shoe Co., pieces of leather; Littlestown Foundry, trivets for the children to paint.

In determining whether a child should enter the special education class, many factors are studied; the report of the school psycholo-

TRAVEL GROUP SEEKS CLOSER CHAMBER TIES

The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce was asked Monday night to initiate the "proper paper work" to establish a closer affiliation between the Gettysburg Travel Council and the Chamber of Commerce.

President Julian Estep, at a meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber in the Plaza building, read a letter from William G. Weaver president of the Travel Council, petitioning the Chamber to institute the paper work necessary for closer affiliation. He added that he had invited Walter Shank of the state Chamber of Commerce to meet with the directors of the Travel Council, Chamber of Commerce and Retail Merchants Association in the near future to outline ways by which all three groups could work more closely together and all gain the advantages of affiliation with the state and national Chambers.

Names Committees
Estep appointed the following committees: Industrial, Lee Hartman and William Bigham, co-chairmen, Edgar Deardorff and Russell Campbell; tourist and travel, LeRoy E. Smith, Frank Bowersox, Allen Larsen and John Conti; trade and merchants, David Blocher, Ross Shiner, Mares Sherman and N. A. Melgakes; community development, Walter B. Lane, John Caldwell, Fred Faber and G. Henry Roth; publicity, Paul L. Roy, Parker Cunningham and G. Henry Roth; 100th Anniversary, William G. Weaver, William Ayre, Smith, Henry M. Scharf and Melgakes; membership, Gerald C. Bixler, William Lentz, William Musser and J. Howard Gaines; agriculture, Cletus Mayer, Calvin Cluck, and George Miller.

A meeting of chairmen of committees will be held February 10, Estep said, to formulate plans for the year.

Walter Lane reported that the report to the state Chamber on the town's participation in the 1957 Community Betterment contest is now being prepared. The board voted to enter the town in the 1958 contest.

It was announced that 40 fruit growers from Michigan will visit Gettysburg Feb. 9 and 30 Senior high school pupils from Newton, Iowa, accompanied by teachers, will be here April 21 and 22.

President Estep reported 430 inquiries were answered by the Chamber in December and 1,200 folders were sent out. He also reported 63 paid-up members.

MARKETING OF FELLOWSHIP IS ROTARY TOPIC

"Fellowship should be marketed just as we market commodities," A. M. Browne, manager of market development, glass and closure division of the Armstrong Cork Co., Lancaster, told the Gettysburg Rotary club at its meeting Monday evening in the YWCA.

Speaking on "Can We Market Fellowship?" Browne held "in this modern world of ours, marketing has become a broad umbrella that's a real part of cold-blooded business practice. It's that technique by which we get goods or services from the point of production or from the warehouse into the hands of the consumer. In business we have a double problem, that of production, and that of marketing, so that the goods reach the ultimate consumer.

Fellowship has many definitions, but basically it is really a matter of joint interest. It always has seemed to me that whenever people have a joint interest in a subject, while they risk disagreement on specifics, they are in agreement on fundamentals. And when people agree on fundamentals we're headed in a peaceful direction.

Agree Basically On Peace
"I honestly think that we as a nation and the world in general basically are agreed on the fundamentals. We all want peace, we all want a good standard of living, we all want many things in common. We have a joint interest in addition by virtue of the interdependence of one business with another, of one man with another.

"Because we have that basic produce, a joint interest, I think it can be marketed, just as we market any other product. And if we put our marketing know-how to work to sell fellowship, I think we can wind up with a better world."

Fifty attended the meeting at which President A. Harold Dunkelberger presided. L. S. Long introduced the speaker, John A. Hauser introduced a number of staff members from C. H. Musselman Co.

IMPORTANCE OF GOOD TEACHING CITED BY RIEGLE

"Our whole civilization's way of living rests on the way teachers do their jobs," H. Edgar Riegle, Gettysburg superintendent of schools, told about 20 Gettysburg High School students Monday evening at Keefeauver school at the first meeting of pupils who are interested in joining a Future Teachers' Association here.

"It's a fine profession," Mr. Riegle said. "This business of teaching school is fun and teachers are human. There are disadvantages in teaching but in what job isn't there a disadvantage? In the long run teaching makes us rich in experience and association. There is much personal satisfaction in our service to mankind."

The prospective FTA members heard the purpose of the FTA described and were told of requirements and opportunities in teaching at various grade levels in talks by Miss N. Louise Ramer, chairman of the local teachers' committee for FTA; Mr. Riegle; G. W. Lefever, high school principal, and Richard A. Folkenroth, elementary supervisor who took the students on a tour of the 20-room Keefeauver school building after the meeting.

"Must Like People"
The meeting was opened by Jack R. Corbin, president of the Gettysburg branch of the Pennsylvania State Education Association which is sponsoring formation of the FTA and will underwrite its expense. Miss Ramer then outlined the purpose of the FTA as "exploratory, pre-vocational and character-forming in the sense that it seeks to develop cultivate desirable professional qualities of leadership, character and scholarship."

Mrs. Mary K. Gray, a teacher at Keefeauver school and member of the sponsoring committee, said, "This organization is an honor for students." She asked students to complete an application for membership by February 3 and give it to Miss Ramer. Each application must bear the names of three high school teachers who have agreed to be used as references for the pupil.

Mr. Lefever said grades 7, 8 and 9 are probably the most difficult to teach because in these grades pupils are making the most changes and adjustments.

Meet Next Feb. 24
"You must like people, children and young folks if you want to teach in high school," He urged students to prepare for teaching by learning their subject material in high school.

BRAND NAMES MARTIN STORE

Martin's Shoe Store, Baltimore St., has been chosen one of the 18 "Brand Name Retailer-of-the-year" according to an announcement today by Brand Names Foundation, New York City. Martin's will compete for an award in the shoe store's category competition. The nationwide contest swings into its final phase today, Henry E. Abt, president, announced.

Selected from among thousands of entries in the 25 categories of retailing, these merchants "represent retail leadership in the 48 states, District of Columbia, Canada, Puerto Rico and Hawaii."

Commenting on this 10th annual competition, Henry Abt said: "This year, more than ever, better retailing became essential if the prosperity of the postwar period was to be maintained. Continued prosperity must be achieved not only in the production of goods, but also in efficient and imaginative distribution and selling. Sound retailing policies like those on which the 'Brand Name Retailer-of-the-Year' winners will be picked have gained vital importance."

Wins Pie Baking Contest

Janet Dehoff, Littlestown High Junior, Named Cherry Pie Queen

Miss Janet Dehoff, a Junior from Littlestown High School, became Adams County's cherry pie baking queen Monday night at a contest held at Gettysburg High School.

Miss Dehoff was judged the winner in competition with representatives from six other high schools in the county. As the county champion, she will take part February 8 in the state contest at Erie to determine Pennsylvania's cherry pie baking queen.

The victory for Miss Dehoff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dehoff Jr., Littlestown R. 1, marked the second straight year Littlestown girls have won the county event. Miss Heidi Nickey, last year's winner, went on to capture the Pennsylvania title and the eastern regional national title.

Biglerville Girl Second
Runner-up in the county event was Miss Jane Carey, 18, a Senior at Biglerville High School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wharton C. Carey, Gardeners R. 2.

The county winner baked "15 to 20" pies for practice before entering the county event. The runner-up baked 15. Both took old recipes for cherry pie and revamped them to their own taste.

The county winner hopes to study music at college and now is a "hill-billy singer" and guitar player, singing at private banquets and events, and recently came in second at a Hanover talent show. Her musical taste, she says, ranges from all types of music "except opera." She is a member of the Future Homemakers Club at Littlestown. The runner-up, Miss Margaret Brant, home economics supervisor for Adams, Cumberland, Juniata and Perry Counties, in charge of the contest, presented the winner and runner-up with gifts.

A traveling clock was presented to Miss Dehoff and a charm bracelet to Miss Carey.

Judges were M. Francis Coulson, assistant Adams County superintendent of schools; Mrs. John K. Lott, Gettysburg R. 4, and Mrs. Elsie Tagg, home economist from the Metropolitan Edison Co. of York.

1,000-Point System
Superintendent Coulson, in announcing the winners, held "this has been a difficult task today. All of the contestants have performed splendidly. No judges could have made a more difficult decision to make. You can rest assured that your efforts today, whether you were winner or not, were worthwhile. You have gained experience through this contest which no one can take from you."

William Wilson, John F. Peters and Everett Weiser represented the Pennsylvania Cherry Growers Association at the contest and showed slides from prior state contests.

Judging was based on a 1,000-point scale, 150 for method of preparation, 350 for the pie crust, 300 for the filling and 200 points for "personal qualifications" including ability to speak, posture, poise and grooming.

Baghdad Nations Plan System Of Roads, Ports, Airfields, Radio System At Heavy Cost

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — The Baghdad Pact Council of Ministers today approved long-term plans for a strategic system of roads, ports, airfields and radio communications. If carried out, the project will cost billions of dollars over a period of several years.

The five-nation conference — with Secretary of State Dulles sitting as an American observer — okayed the plan in approving the report of the pact's military committee.

Other aspects of the committee's report were not immediately disclosed.

Informed sources said the group was moving, however, toward turning the military planning group into a full-blown unified command. An Iranian move last year to set up a NATO-type command failed to go through because of proposals that Iran's King Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi become the supreme commander.

Survey Political Scene
The conference continued a survey of the Middle East political scene.

Conference sources reported there was no unanimous support

Jail Driver After Running Into Porch

Damage totaled $775 when a car driven by Henry A. Bass, Baltimore, crashed into the front porch of M. O. Rice, 785 Baltimore St., about 2 o'clock this morning, according to borough police. When police arrived, Rice told them he saw a man running toward the reservoir. Police searched the surrounding area but found no one.

Bass was arrested at the Battlefield Service Station and committed to the county jail. Police said he was under the influence of liquor.

Damage to Bass' car was $375, and to the porch, $400.

Bass was charged by police with reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident without revealing his identity, before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, this morning.

MOTHER OF FIVE ARRESTED FOR FRAUD ON BANKS

A 26-year-old mother of five children was in the Adams County jail today charged with false pretense in obtaining approximately $300 from several banks.

Mrs. Margaret B. Searcist, of Columbia, was arrested Monday afternoon by state police on information filed before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

She is alleged to have visited a number of banks to seek loans where she showed credentials and claimed she owned properties in order to obtain $85 loans.

Three Banks Involved
Gettysburg, Biglerville and York Springs banks are alleged to have been involved in the successful attempts of Mrs. Searcist to obtain loans.

Several other banks are alleged to have been visited by Mrs. Searcist, but they asked her to return after the board had studied the matter. As a result they apparently were not victimized.

According to police, the 238-pound woman showed credentials at various banks indicating she was employed variously at Letterkenny and Mechanicsburg Naval Depot.

Claimed Title To Property
In Gettysburg she told banks that she owned a property on York St. At Biglerville she claimed to own a property between Biglerville and Gettysburg.

The charges before Justice Snyder alleged she obtained $85 from the Gettysburg National on December 19, $85 from the Biglerville National on January 19 and $85 on December 30 from the York Springs National.

MARYLAND MEN ADMIT HOLDUP ROBBERY OF EX-SERVICEMAN

Two Maryland men Monday afternoon entered pleas of guilty before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder to the armed robbery of a Palmyra R. 1 ex-serviceman last Thursday 4½ miles north of Littlestown on the Gettysburg-Littlestown Rd.

The men, Edward Sterling Fisher, 26, Westminster, and Thomas F. Osborne, 20, Finksburg R. 1, were committed to the county jail in default of bail to await sentence by the county court.

As police outlined the story, William E. Cline, aged approximately 20, of Palmyra R. 1, had received his discharge from the Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark., a few days before the robbery.

Recognized By Victim

Cline accompanied several young men from Westminster, with whom he had been "buddies" in the Army, to their homes at Westminster and spent several days there before starting for his home near Palmyra.

In company with the Westminster ex-serviceman, Cline frequently visited a restaurant that is a popular hangout for younger people of the Westminster area.

There, police said, Fisher and Osborne saw Cline and eventually learned that he planned to go home to Palmyra. Police said that "while the young men had seen each other, they did not become acquainted. But when Fisher and Osborne offered to drive Cline to Palmyra he knew them, from seeing them at Westminster, although he didn't know their names."

The two Maryland men, driving Cline, started toward Palmyra. They were about halfway to Gettysburg at 3:45 o'clock on the morning of January 23 when Fisher, according to police, stopped the car at a lonely spot and pulled a gun from his pocket.

Noted License Number
He told Cline to hand over his money. When Cline did, Fisher ordered the ex-serviceman out of the car.

MARYLAND MEN

noted the license number as the car pulled away.

When the robbers' car was out of sight, Cline went to the nearest house and aroused the family. He then called state police, who wired Maryland authorities and Monday the two Maryland men were taken into custody. They waived extradition and were brought here Monday afternoon. Following the hearing before Justice Snyder they were placed in the county jail.

Cline had told police that he had $60 which he turned over at gun point. The two Westminster men, in pleading guilty, held the amount was somewhat less than $90.

"MEASURES OF WORTH"

When measuring the worth of men . . . what units should we use . . . in an effort to make certain that . . . each gets his honest dues . . . value should not be based on gold . . . or something known as fame . . . but rather on the priceless things . . . that seldom win acclaim . . . is he a truthful person . . . one worthy of deep trust . . . ask yourself this question . . . because it is a must . . . does he speak well of others . . . and practice brotherhood . . . if he does this, you can be sure . . . he is a force for good . . . yes, things we take for granted . . . fill life with joy and mirth . . . these are, and always will be . . . the real measures of worth.

FREE MILK TO NEW BABIES BRINGS FINE

HARRISBURG, (P)—The State Milk Control Commission today found itself in the embarrassing, but unavoidable, position of prosecuting two dairies for giving free milk to new babies.

"Our hands are tied by the law," said Commissioner Simon K. Uhl. "It's an unfortunate situation, but there is nothing else we can do."

Charged with providing free milk to the first babies of 1958 in the Sunbury area were Glen Lock Farms, Inc., Northumberland, and Stam's Dairy, Sunbury. Both were fined $50 and costs.

The state law limits a milk dealer to distributing only one free quart of milk to any prospective retail customer in any one six-months period.

The two dairies provided a number of quarts of free milk to the new babies during the first two weeks of January.

The purpose of the law, Uhl explained, is to prevent dealers from undercutting state-regulated minimum milk prices through unlimited free milk distribution.

MISS BERGMAN'S HUBBY ASKS FOR AN ANNULMENT

ROME (P)—Roberto Rossellini has asked a Rome court to annul his marriage to Ingrid Bergman. The actress is not contesting the Italian film director's suit.

Rossellini claimed Miss Bergman was "still technically married" to Dr. Peter Lindstrom when she married the Italian film director by proxy in Mexico May 24, 1950. Fraudulent marriage is a legal ground for annulment in Italy, where divorce is not legal.

Miss Bergman received a Mexican divorce from Dr. Lindstrom Feb. 9, 1950, the week after the birth of her first child by Rossellini.

Bows To Court
Miss Bergman's brief reply to Rossellini's suit admitted his claim and said she would submit to the findings of the court.

Her attorney Ercole Graziadei said no date had been set for a court hearing. He added that several months might elapse before a decision and that it would not be necessary for Miss Bergman or Rossellini to appear in court.

The couple was legally separated here Nov. 7 after Rossellini's name was linked with that of an Indian script writer, Sonali Das Gupta. He met her while making films in India and later unconfirmed reports said she had come to Europe.

Miss Bergman, at work filming a movie in London, sent word from her studio to newsmen that she had no comment to make on the annulment action.

Rossellini was reported somewhere in Paris and could not be reached.

WASHINGTON (P)—President Eisenhower plans to fly to Kansas City, Mo., tomorrow morning to attend funeral services for his brother Arthur.

Arthur B. Eisenhower, 71, died of a heart ailment Sunday night. Mrs. Eisenhower will not accompany the President, the White House announced. Traveling with him will be his youngest brother, Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, president of Johns Hopkins University at Baltimore, Md.

Also scheduled to make the trip are the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, or his assistant, Col. Walter R. Tkach; Col. Robert Schulz, the President's Army aide; and press secretary James C. Hagerty.

The President and Milton will be met at Kansas City by another brother, Earl Eisenhower of La Grange, Ill.

The White House said it now appears likely that a fourth brother, Edgar Eisenhower of Tacoma, Wash., will be unable to attend. The President and his two brothers will go first to the home of Arthur's widow for a brief visit. Then they and other members of the family will go to a funeral home chapel for brief private services.

Services At 1 P.M.

The President and his brother Milton will go directly to the airport after the services.

They are scheduled to arrive back in Washington that evening.

The funeral was set for 1 p.m. tomorrow at Stine and McClure Chapel. There will be services later in New York and the body will be entombed there. These arrangements are not yet complete.

Hoffa's Defense Fund Collection Held Up

DETROIT (P)—Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa said today collection of a legal defense fund for union officials has been held up temporarily.

"We decided to wait until we have some large meetings of our people," Hoffa said. He explained he meant meetings of the Western Eastern, Central and Southern conferences of the union this spring.

Hoffa declined to discuss details of a Chicago report saying he had called a halt to collection of funds for legal defense of union officials. But he added: "I have read the story. It isn't correct. I said no such things."

He was sworn in at a brief ceremony in Budapest's great Parliament House.

Outgoing Premier Janos Kadar remains first secretary of the ruling

In a farewell speech, Kadar gave repeated thanks to the Soviet Union for its support. Kadar took office when the Russians crushed the 1956 revolt.

Unranked Duke Puts Ax To 14-Game Unbeaten Streak Of West Virginia 72-68

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Time finally ran out on West Virginia's Cinderella in college basketball.

Unranked Duke, only a so-so 7-5 for the season, put the ax to West Virginia's 14-game unbeaten streak with a 72-68 upset last night. It was the No. 1 shocker on a night of surprises.

The Mountaineers are No. 1 in today's Associated Press poll, based on games through last Saturday.

Same For Oklahoma State

Longshot Houston clipped sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had won 12 straight, 70-44, and ambitious Georgia Tech walloped eighth-ranked Kentucky 71-52.

That leaves Temple, No. 11 at 13-2, with the top winning streak (12) and untested St. John's of Brooklyn, ranked 13th, the only unbeaten (9-0) in major play.

West Virginia had the edge from the field, hitting 27 field goals to Duke's 26. But the Blue Devils, an Atlantic Coast Conference entry, connected on 20 of 25 free throws while West Virginia was blowing 8 of 22.

Sharrar Held Down

Duke's 6-5 Paul Schmidt bird-dogged 6-10 Lloyd Sharrar, the big man of the Southern Conference champs Sharrar snared only 14 rebounds and scored but nine points.

Schmidt scored only 12 points, but there was no need for more. All but two of Duke's seven players scored — and those five hit double figures. Jim Newcome was high with 20.

Bob Smith scored 24 and Jerry West 20 for the Mountaineers, who got their first lead, 50-49, with nine minutes gone in the second half. But with little more than six minutes left, a jump shot by Bob Joe Harris gave the lead to Duke for keeps at 6-59.

Wildcats Smeared

Houston, now 6-8 handed Oklahoma State its first defeat since a season-opening setback by Kansas, with a tight zone defense and a brilliant two-man performance. They scored 40 points before Russ Boone and Ed Erickson between them (23 by Boone), and split 24 rebounds.

Georgia Tech, winning six of its last seven, gained a share of the Southeastern Conference lead with Kentucky by smearing the Wildcats' unbeaten SEC record. Little guys Terry Randall, with 26, and Bud Blemker, with 21, led the engineers, who trailed by two at the half.

In non-SEC games, Jack Kublas scored 41 points as Alabama mauled Howard 106-44. Mississippi State defeated Southeastern Louisiana 75-6 with Bailey Howell counting 35. Georgia whipped South Carolina 84-63, despite Dickie Prater's 25 points for the Gamecocks.

Ohio State came from behind and stood off a Purdue rally that counted seven points in the last 28 seconds for a 75-73 victory and second place in the Big Ten.

SPORTSWRITERS HONOR CHAMP BLIND GOLFER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The blacked-out stage suddenly was illuminated and floodlight beamed upon a husky, good-looking man with an ebullient air-line and a warm smile. The crowd of 1,200 cheered.

The toastmaster, Ed Pollock, Philadelphia Bulletin sports editor, said: "Members and other guests of the Philadelphia Sports Writers Assn., I give you the Most Courageous Athlete of 1957 — Charlie Boswell."

Charlie Boswell was blinded in World War II and his career in sports seemingly ended. Yet now he is a golf champion of world reputation.

Boswell, one time football star at the University of Alabama, was saluted by the writers last night along with Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Reifersnyder, Navy football player. Musial was named Outstanding Athlete of the Year. Reifersnyder, a tackle on Navy's Cotton Bowl team, was chosen Lineman of 1957.

Boswell, 41 and in the insurance business in Birmingham, Ala., was the second blind athlete chosen by the association for this award. In 1939, Bob Allman, a sightless Penn wrestling champion, received the plaque and plaudits.

Boswell won the national blind championship eight times and in the last three years has taken the international title. His first round of 90 and two round total of 187 in 1956 are records for blind golfers.

WEST VIRGINIA STRONG CHOICE FOR POLL'S TOP

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
West Virginia's Mountaineers no longer are unbeaten, but they're still the top-heavy choice in today's Associated Press college basketball poll—based on games through Saturday.

Duke's stunning 72-68 upset ended West Virginia's winning streak at 14 last night, but came too late to be reflected in the balloting by the nation's sportswriters and broadcasters.

There were two other upsets last night. Sixth-ranked Oklahoma State, which had climbed a notch by running its winning streak to 12, was beaten 70-64 by Houston.

Eighth-ranked Kentucky was trimmed 71-52 by Georgia Tech. Kentucky now is 12-4.

Cincinnati Climbs

The Mountaineers totaled 1,008 points in the poll to 834 for runner-up Kansas. They were the first pick of 73 of 110 ballots.

Cincinnati, led by the nation's top scorer, Oscar Robertson, continued to advance, jumping past Kansas State into third place by a narrow margin.

The rest of the top 10 lists San Francisco, Oklahoma State, North Carolina, Kentucky, Maryland and North Carolina State.

N.C. State rejoined the top 10, off its 57-48 victory over Maryland last week, while Bradley slipped to 12th after losing to Portland.

Point totals are figured on the basis of 10 for first, 9 for second, etc.

NFL MEETING OPENS TODAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The four-day National Football League annual winter meeting opened here today with the day-long player draft.

Commissioner Bert Bell banded the gavel for the 10-hour job of player selections about 1 a.m. Coaches, general managers and owners from each of the 12 pro clubs were on hand for the task.

The first four rounds of the annual 30-round draft were held Dec. 1. That left 26 round involving 312 players to be run through today. Bell indicated there was a slim possibility the owners might decide to reduce the draft by five rounds.

The reason for this is that the NFL has a contract limit of 60 players with a regular season maximum of 35 men. Thus even if a team signed all its draftees it would have 65 players, five over the contract maximum. It takes a unanimous vote to make the change.

The teams will select in the order of their finish in the 1957 standings from last to first with the championship club last. In the cases of ties the deadlocked teams will toss a coin for first pick and then alternate in succeeding rounds.

Shippensburg Junior High Here Tonight; Greyhounds Will Host Warrior Squad

Gettysburg Junior High's cagers will attempt to break a two-game losing streak when they meet Shippensburg here tonight in a South Penn Junior High League game.

The Braves are 2-2 in league play and 3-2 overall. Shippensburg is 1-3 in league competition.

At 6:30 the reserve teams will tangle.

George Forney's Warriors conclude their first half schedule in the senior high circuit by playing at Shippensburg and may be without the services of Kenny Keefe who suffered an ankle injury Friday night. Shippensburg has proved a potent foe for all teams this season and sports a 3-4 league mark.

Big Game At Waynesboro

The big game in the South Penn League tonight pits unbeaten Carlisle (7-0) against second-place Wayneboro (6-1) at Wayneboro. A win for Carlisle would give it the first half title while a triumph for the Indians would result in a first place deadlock necessitating a playoff, probably Friday evening.

Rounding out the league schedule tonight will be the following games: Hanover at Hershey, and Mechanicsburg at Middletown.

New Oxford, tied with Biglerville for first place in the Adams County League, can take over undisputed possession of first place via a win at Littlestown. Biglerville is idle in league play but hosts Delone in an exhibition affair. The other league game sends Big Spring against Bermdian Joint at East Berlin.

Fairfield also has a non-league scrap this evening, playing at Taneytown. The Fairfield girls play at Mechanicsburg this afternoon.

Other contests today include Bermdian girls at Westminster, and Bermdian Junior High at Boiling Springs.

LED PINCH HITTERS

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Whisenant, Cincinnati Redleg outfielder, led the National League pinch hitters in 1957 with a 400 mark. Pete made eight pinch hits in 20 trips to the plate. Among his safeties were a home run, a triple and two doubles. He hit five homers during the year. Three were off Wilmer Mizell of the St. Louis Cardinals.

"If the Redlegs keep me I can help them win the pennant as a pinch hitter," Whisenant said last spring. He did all right, but the Redlegs finished fourth.

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — Suzanne Elaine Soule, found sane by the same jury which convicted her of second-degree murder in the slaying of her roommate, will be sentenced Feb. 10.

Her conviction carries a five-year to life sentence. The actual term is set by the State Adult Authority.

Superior Court Judge Frank Blum said at the end of the sanity trial yesterday he will recommend she be transferred from Corona State Prison for Women to a state mental hospital for extensive psychiatric treatment.

ANTONELLI OF GIANTS MAY BE TRADED LATER

NEW YORK (AP)—On the threshold of one trade, the San Francisco Giants today were looking ahead to the possibility of dealing away ace left-hander Johnny Antonelli.

They are now clearing waivers on first baseman Gail Harris and infielder Ossie Virgi to trade the pair to Detroit for Jim Finigan.

Vice President Chub Feeney admitted the deal with the Tigers was just about wrapped up except for the waivers.

Admit Discussion

Feeney, the last of the Giants' official family still in New York, admitted that the club had considered trading Antonelli.

"Naturally, a lot of clubs want him," Feeney commented. "We talked with a couple last weekend about him."

While no one was admitting it openly, the word was that Cincinnati had offered the Giants catcher Ed Bailey and infielder Al Grammas for Antonelli, who already has sent back his contract unsigned. But the Giants would like more than Grammas.

Willie Marshall Stretches Lead

NEW YORK (AP)—Husling Willie Marshall of Hershey has opened up a commanding nine-point lead in the American Hockey League scoring race.

The Bears' center collected six points during the week for a season's output of 9, statistics revealed today. Teammate Dunc Fisher is runner-up with 60 points.

Marshall's 28 goals is tops in the league. His 41 assists tie him for the lead in that department with Jimmy Moore of Cleveland.

Moore is third in the point parade with 59. Cleveland's Fred Glover, still sidelined with injuries, remains fourth with 54 points followed by rookie Bruce Carmichael of Providence in fifth with 51.

Cleveland's Johnny Bower maintains his goal-tending supremacy, having allowed 100 goals in 45 games for a 2.22 average. He also has the most shutouts, seven.

Knicks Beat Lakers 3rd Time In Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Minneapolis and New York have little in common geographically but when it comes to professional basketball the Minneapolis Lakers seem to be the New York Knickerbockers best friend.

The Knicks beat the Lakers for the third straight time 113-102 in the opener of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader at Detroit last night. The hometown Pistons defeated the Philadelphia Warriors 115-93 in the nightcap.

New York knocked off the Lakers in a nationally televised game in the Big Town's 9th Regiment Armory Saturday, flew out to Minneapolis and beat them Sunday afternoon and then found it no harder in Detroit.

The game marked the 31st consecutive contest in which the Knicks have scored more than 100 points.

By WHITNEY MARTIN
GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP) — Los Angeles Dodger catcher Roy Campanella, a diamond stalwart for many a season, suffered a fractured neck early today when his car skidded, overturned and crashed into a pole.

His condition was termed critical and an operation was begun.

Campanella, conscious but apparently paralyzed from a pinched nerve in his spinal cord, discussed the situation calmly with doctors.

Told an immediate operation was believed needed, he replied: "Whatever you fellows think is necessary."

Relieve Pressure

The operation was described as a laminectomy, a procedure to relieve pressure from the fracture on the spinal cord. A spokesman at Community Hospital here said this was necessary before it could be determined whether any permanent injury had been sustained. No other injury was immediately apparent.

The operation was begun by a team of seven surgeons at 8:30 a.m. and was expected to last about two hours.

Campanella's automobile accident occurred at 3:30 a.m. on a Glen Cove Street not far from his home. He was pinned in the wreckage for half an hour before emergency workers could free him.

Concern For Future

The word was immediately relayed to Dodger officials in Los Angeles, where the club was recently moved from Brooklyn, and the club vice president, Buddy Bavasi, voiced great concern over the ace catcher's latest misfortune.

The 36-year-old Campanella, who has been beset by injuries of one kind or another during his long baseball career, was returning alone to his home here after a New York television appearance when the mishap occurred.

The crash made noise so great that a number of persons rushed from their homes in the vicinity to investigate. Among them was a physician, Dr. W. S. Gurnee.

Hopes Not Bright

Dr. Gurnee gave Campanella an injection but said later the baseball player felt no sensation from the needle and that "it doesn't look good for his baseball career."

Police informed Campanella's wife at home, and then took her to the hospital. The couple have six children, ranging in age from 4 to 18.

Speculate On Future

He had batted .242 in 103 games. His 80 hits included 13 home runs, nine doubles and 62 runs batted in.

There has been much speculation as to his future. He had not been able to shake recurring injuries that have plagued him throughout his career with the Dodgers, and the possibility of his being traded or sold had often been discussed.

His weight has also been a problem, though Campanella insisted that he always was in shape.

Campanella had been preparing to leave for Los Angeles, where he had taken a tentative lease on a new home.

He is owner of a flourishing Harlem liquor store, and a $38,000 yacht which has been put up for sale.

The rotund Dodger catcher was due to report to spring training at Vero Beach, Fla., on March 1, the official opening date for drills.

KHRUSHCHEV IS STILL PLUGGING FOR TOP TALKS

MOSCOW (AP)—Still plugging for a summit conference, Nikita Khrushchev proposed last night that government heads start with issues "we can agree on before tackling the tougher and more basic problems."

The Communist party boss was talking with Western ambassadors at an Indian National Day reception. He spoke with the good humor he usually displays on the Soviet capital's cocktail circuit, in considerable contrast to his blasts at the United States and the West in a speech last week in White Russia.

He did not say just how the Soviets and the Western Allies could agree on which smaller issues they are likely to agree on. The West has proposed that talks by ambassadors and foreign ministers work this out prior to any summit meeting.

Summit talks, Khrushchev said, "should be like a Russian meal. Let's start with zakuska (hors d'oeuvres), proceed with soup and fish and end up with the main course."

Smith told Winfree to leave speed clocking up to the patrol.

About a month later Smith arrested a motorcyclist riding with his feet on the handlebars. It was Winfree, who was fined $10 and costs for reckless driving.

BRITISH TROOPS, CYPRIOTS FIGHT FOR THIRD DAY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British troops and Turkish Cypriots battled again today on Cyprus for the third successive day. The British opened fire for the first time, and four persons were killed.

Security forces were braced for still more trouble with the island's Turkish minority, which planned a mass protest in connection with the funerals of two of their people killed in the battling Monday between demonstrators and British forces.

Earlier demonstrations had been sparked by Turkish fears that Britain may cede the island to Greece.

Inflamed By Killing But today the Turks were inflamed by the killing of an aged Turkish man and woman. Both were hit by military vehicles trying to push through stone-throwing mobs.

The British opened fire on a crowd of young Turks trying to enter the walled Turkish quarter of Nicosia to attend the funerals. A number of Turks were wounded. A car carrying some of the wounded to a hospital sped through a roadblock in defiance of soldiers' orders to halt. The troops opened fire, killing two of the car's occupants. A third got a bullet in his throat and was not expected to live.

Flags At Half Staff British military headquarters said two men were killed in disturbances in the port of Famagusta.

The British imposed a curfew in Famagusta's walled city, and Turkish dock workers, the bulk of the port's labor force, went on strike.

Turkish flags flew at half staff throughout the island in mourning.

FIRST DEGREE CONVICTION IS ASKED BY STATE

FRANKLIN, Pa. (AP)—The Commonwealth of Pennsylvania seeks a first-degree murder conviction for Mrs. Lydia Dean, a native of the Philippines being tried in the rifle-shooting of her American husband.

Dist. Atty. Robert T. Grannis asked a jury of seven men and five women to return that verdict as he opened the Commonwealth's case yesterday in Venango County Criminal Court.

Mrs. Dean, 21, the mother of a 3-year-old daughter, tearfully entered a plea of innocent. She spoke in hushed tones in the crowded courtroom.

Grannis said he will call 14 witnesses in an attempt to prove that Mrs. Dean "committed murder of the first degree."

Wanted Divorce He said the fatal shooting last Dec. 7 of Ronald Dean, a 29-year-old Air Force sergeant, was "willful, malicious, deliberate and premeditated."

The district attorney said Mrs. Dean's motive stemmed from her husband's interest in another girl. Police who investigated the shooting have quoted Mrs. Dean as saying her husband wanted a divorce to marry an English girl.

Dean returned from an 18-month tour of duty in England six days before he was shot.

The Deans were married four years ago while he was stationed in the Philippines. Their daughter, Phyllis, is being cared for by friends of the defendant.

The prosecution's first witness, state policeman George Driestadt, testified briefly about being called to the scene of the shooting at the home of Dean's parents near Pleasantville, Pa.

IMPORTANCE OF (Continued from Page 1) "There is a closer pupil-teacher and parent-teacher relationship in teaching in the elementary grades," Mr. Folkenroth told the group. "An elementary teacher usually works in a self-contained unit, has a wide range of subjects to teach and is the one and only manager of her classroom."

Miss Ramer said the next meeting will be held February 24 when a constitution will be discussed and application will be made for a FTA charter.

After the tour of classrooms where they saw displays and exhibits that are part of usual teaching procedures, the pupils were served cakes and pretzels in the school cafeteria.

About 15 teachers attended.

INSURANCE TO BE TAKEN OUT OF POLITICS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority made plans today to move its insurance purchases out of the reach of political patronage.

A small portion of the insurance coverage bought by the state's multimillion-dollar borrow-and-build agency was turned over to the State Property and Supplies Department yesterday on unanimous consent of the bipartisan authority.

But Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride suggested a court test first as to whether fire insurance—which makes up the bulk of the coverage—can be turned over to the department.

Internal Affairs Secretary Genevieve Blatt said the move made yesterday "will save some money," adding that many thousands each year will be saved if we can do the same with the fire insurance.

Ask For Opinion McBride was called into the meeting for his opinion on whether it would be legal for the GSA to purchase $10,000 deductible fire insurance on its properties as suggested in a resolution.

McBride advised the group to adopt a resolution calling for such action and then to take the matter to court for a "declaratory judgment" on its legality. The resolution was passed calling for such purchases, also by the Property and Supplies Department, if and when it is found legal by the courts.

Under present operation the GSA handles the purchase of its own insurance. Miss Blatt maintains it could be done at a cheaper rate through the Property and Supplies Department, which is the insurance purchasing agent for the state.

Political Patronage Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Republican floor leader, admitted that the insurance contracts are handed out on a political patronage basis now under the GSA and have been "for as long as I know." Miss Blatt said $1,143,000 was paid by the GSA in insurance premiums between 1951 and the end of 1957.

SEEK CAUSE OF BLAST IN HOME

YORK, Pa. (AP)—Investigators dug deeper into the rubble of a brick home in nearby Loganville today to determine whether leaking gas touched off the Sunday night explosion in which a 15-year-old boy was killed.

Although the home occupied by Henry Elphick and his family did not have gas service, state police Sgt. Jack Arms said it is possible a neighbor's service pipe into the basement of Elphick's home by following an adjacent water pipe. Arms, of the state police fire marshal's office, said a leak was found in a pipe leading from the gas main to the house across the street from the Elphicks.

"We'll know more when the rubble is cleared out of the basement and we can get in there and check around with our instruments," Arms said.

Arms also disclosed that leaking gas has been blamed for a Saturday night explosion which wrecked a home in Pleasantville, injured an elderly couple.

IKE'S EDUCATION PLAN TO TAKE FORM BUT FACES 7 COMPETITORS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower billion-dollar program of federal aid to education takes legislative form today, but the four-year plan must compete with at least seven other somewhat similar plans already presented or suggested.

A message outlining the plan, designed as a booster shot in the nation's scientific arm, was sent to Capitol Hill yesterday.

Eisenhower tied the program directly to security and national defense.

The President's Plan

Generally speaking, the President's program calls for federal fellowships and scholarships, primarily to students studying the sciences, and federal grants to the states for improving the teaching of science and mathematics, and for steering apt pupils into those fields.

Already pending or proposed are these other competing plans: Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) wants to add 500 million dollars a year for school construction.

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) will introduce legislation this week calling for a billion and a half dollars, spread over five years, for school construction.

Other Proposals

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) would grant 1,000 four-year college scholarships a year to the nation's brightest high school students, and scholarships for summer courses to 116,000 schoolteachers.

Senators Monroney and Kerr (D-Okla.) and McNamara (D-Mich.) are sponsoring a bill that would provide 10 million dollars annually to further scientific education along the same pattern as vocational education is now taught.

Sen. Hill (D-Ala.) and Rep. Elliott (D-Ala.) would provide 40,000 science scholarships a year to promising high school students.

DISINHERITED DAUGHTER GETS HALF MILLION

WEST CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — A family dispute over the multimillion dollar estate of the late Harry Pubickier has ended in an out-of-court settlement which gave $500,000 to a daughter he had disinherited.

Terms of the settlement, reached last October, were disclosed yesterday with the filing of papers in Chester County Orphans' Court.

Mrs. Elva P. Mangold had claimed through the long litigation that the codicil to her father's will, which disinherited her, had been executed through "undue influence and fraud" attributed to her sister, Helen, and the latter's husband, Simon Neuman.

Estate Over 11 Millions

The founder of the Publicker distilling firm left an estate of $11,900,000. Under the settlement, Mrs. Mangold will receive $500,000, with $100,000 of this sum to be held in trust for her three children. They are Jonathan Hammer, born of a previous marriage, and Mark and Daniel Mangold.

During the five year court battle, Mrs. Mangold held that her father's faculties were greatly impaired by sickness and the infirmities of his late years. The will was written in May, 1941 and Publicker died 10 years later at the age of 74.

The fraud charges were later dismissed by Chester County Orphans' Judge J. Paul MacElree.

The agreement was signed by Mrs. Mangold; Neuman, who is board chairman of Publicker Industries; his wife; a brother of Mrs. Mangold, Robert B. Publicker, and State Atty. Gen. Thomas D. McBride, who acted as legal guardian of Mrs. Mangold's children.

Hospital was approved yesterday by the General State Authority.

However, the action meant no gain in allocation for the project as the money for the equipment merely was taken from the overall $500,000 allocated for improvements at the institution.

Basketball For Show Area Tabled

HARRISBURG (AP) — The day when basketball is played at the Farm Show Arena still is in the unforeseeable future.

The General State Authority yesterday debated — and ended up tabling — a proposal to spend $60,000 to buy a 60 by 104 foot portable hardwood floor to be set down over the tanbark floor for use as a basketball court.

Local school officials and sports enthusiasts long have tried to get the General Assembly to appropriate the money for the court.

INSANITY WINS ACQUITTAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louise Heinzel, an 18-year-old McAdoo, Pa., girl who survived a 100-mile-an-hour auto crash which killed a teen-age companion, yesterday was found innocent of manslaughter by reason of insanity.

Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl ordered Miss Heinzel committed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital here until it is determined that she is of sound mind and no longer dangerous to society.

The girl was driving a stolen car being chased by police when it crashed into a traffic island and careened into a house here last year. Her companion, Patricia Zabrosky, 15, also of McAdoo, was killed instantly.

Had Run Away

The two girls had run away from home. Government doctors testified during the trial that the Heinzel girl is mentally defective, and that her condition probably led her to flee from the pursuing police.

Miss Heinzel testified that the Zabrosky girl kept urging her to drive "faster, faster," as the police chased them. She said she "blacked out" just before the crash.

One doctor testified he believed Miss Heinzel was completely overwhelmed by Miss Zabrosky's strong personality.

A jury of 10 men and 2 women took only 10 minutes to return the verdict after Judge Youngdahl instructed them to return either a verdict of innocent or one of innocent by reason of insanity.

"Women And Children First" New Slogan For Bankers

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — "Women and children first" is the slogan today of a growing sector of the banking fraternity.

Wooling their friendship and business has wrought changes in banking architecture both inside and out. It plays a part in locating new banking offices throughout the suburbs and particularly in shopping centers.

To please women customers and some small fry depositors too, the banks are offering special services and facilities. There are fashion shows and seminars on family finance, afternoon teas and such giveaways as jars of honey, flower seeds or potted plants.

Do Lots Of Banking

Bankers have found that women, often with youngsters in tow, do an increasing share of the family's banking business. Competition for their business has hastened the changes away from the austere dignity of prewar years.

The American Bankers Assn. found in a survey of the public's banking habits and crochets that today the housewife pays more family bills than her husband, often plays a top role in family budgeting, and enters the bank as often as her spouse. He tops her on going to the bank to put money in. She outstrips him in going to the bank to take it out.

Banks now compete with the most modern department stores and specialty shops in interior decorating. Comfortable chairs, lively murals, flower boxes and piped in music sometimes startle the old-timers.

clip coupons, meet one another in town, or maybe just rest their feet.

A woman vice president presides over it from an adjoining alcove.

Some banks provide high chairs in which to deposit junior while making out bank deposit slips.

Some have sections equipped with playpens, child-sized furniture, picture books, building blocks, jigsaw puzzles, dolls and free lolly-ops. You guessed it—these are usually located in the safe deposit department.

There are banks with baby carriage parking lots, or walk-up windows for mothers with carriages in tow so that they don't have to enter the building.

And some, like the First National Bank in Geneva, Ill., have a hydraulic lift to boost junior depositors up to the window.

Banks weren't like that when grandma was a girl.

ARMED FORCES GIVE PLEDGE TO SUPPORT JUNTA

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Venezuela's revolutionary junta was bolstered today by a pledge of all-out support from the armed forces.

The pledge was delivered to the junta president, Rear Adm. Wolfgang Larrazabal, last night as the new regime made progress in bringing order out of the turmoil that followed the ouster of dictator Marcos Perez Jimenez.

Defense Minister Jesus Maria Castro Leon told Larrazabal the armed forces were "united in the most absolute form in their decision to support absolutely the declared the pledge gave his five-man group the needed power to ensure peace again."

"Good Brothers"

Larrazabal said earlier he expected the United States would recognize his regime soon because "we are good brothers."

One ticklish issue was cleaned up with the departure of former Argentine dictator Juan D. Peron for the Dominican Embassy when the revolt erupted, hastily decided to leave after armed bands fired twice on the embassy. The junta supplied a plane for his trip. On arrival in Ciudad Trujillo, Peron said he would leave soon for Europe by ship, to "get some rest."

Junta sources said peace had been restored in 95 per cent of the country. Threats of a counter-revolt by followers of the ousted dictator apparently were disappearing. But vigilante teams and junta raiders still scoured outlying cities and towns, rounding up scores of former secret police and informers. Dozens of others were killed or wounded while trying to flee.

TWO JAILED AFTER BRAWL

LEVITTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Two young men were in jail today on charges resulting from a brawl with the short order cook of a Levittown shopping center drug-store over a 10 cent cup of coffee.

Thomas Pagella Jr., 23, and Arnold G. Elley, 16, both of Levittown, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct, but innocent to causing a riot, and assault and battery.

Pagella, the son of the Tullytown borough secretary, was ejected from the Sun Ray drug-store during the brawl last night by a customer. In the process a glass door was broken.

Police said there was $200 damage to the store, mostly the cost of replacing the glass door. No one was injured.

The short order cook, Charles Henderson, 30, of Levittown, testified at their arraignment that the two jumped him after Elley returned to the store with Pagella.

LEADER WOULD BOOST HIGH SCHOOL LEVELS

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Leader today suggested that high school diplomas be awarded only to students who pass a uniform examination incorporating minimum statewide standards.

Less than one-third of the more than 800 high schools in Pennsylvania, he said, have been accredited by a college-sponsored association seeking to improve school standards.

"The high school diploma no longer has the value, the prestige, it once had," he said. "We shall restore the diploma to its former value only by raising our standards for graduation."

Drops Bombshell
At present, individual school districts fix the standard for high school graduation on the basis of what Leader described as "shockingly few" state requirements.

Leader dropped his bombshell statement in the laps of a conference of more than 300 educators and citizens who gathered here for a two-day session to look into the problems of school instruction in the space age.

The conferees broke up into 25 groups of about 12 persons each for a grass-roots examination of educational problems confronting the commonwealth.

Wide Range
The questions ranged from what to do about beefing up mathematics and science courses to whether enough English is being taught in Pennsylvania's schools.

Dr. Charles H. Boehm, superintendent of public instruction, said the results would be tabulated within the next 60 days. On the basis of the recommendations, changes will be started as early as the next school term beginning in September.

Leader's speech, prepared for delivery to the conference, pulled no punches as to where Pennsylvania stood on education, declaring:

Cites Requirements
"Traditionally, the commonwealth's contribution to local school districts has been almost exclusively financial. Its success has therefore been more quantitative than qualitative."
"Hardly ever has it ventured boldly into the realm of quality in the classroom."

The governor noted that state standards now require two years of English, two years of social studies and one year of physical education for graduation and leave the remainder of the courses to be elected by the student.

"It would appear that the lazy, disinterested student needs only two talents for winning a high school diploma: the ability to choose 'snap' courses and a certain amount of patience," Leader said.

Plans Teacher Conference
Dr. Boehm, in his speech, said the conference would likely trigger reappraisals of our educational shortcomings not only at the state level but in local schools.

"My own experience has led me to the conviction that the local superintendent, more so than any other factor, determines whether the school district, over a long period, has quality built into the school program," he said.

He disclosed a conference on teacher training is planned in Harrisburg for April 11.

EVANGELISM CRUSADE

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — About 120 Methodist ministers and laymen from this country are going to Cuba late this month to take part in a 10-day evangelism crusade there, Methodist Church headquarters has announced.

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world is a little too old to claim it's a crazy, mixed-up kid. And maybe it isn't crazy. But it's mixed up. The Baghdad Pact is an example.

Secretary of State Dulles right now is in Ankara, Turkey, at a meeting of the Baghdad Pact nations: Britain, Turkey, Iran, Iraq and Pakistan. We not only support this alliance with guns and money. We pushed the ideas.

But we won't join it.
This alliance was created as a military defense against Russia along its southern flank. It is one more link in a chain of alliances this country sponsored around the world. Examples: NATO in Western Europe, SEATO in Southeast Asia.

Justly Sensitive
The Arabs of the Middle East—but not all of them, since Iraq is an Arab country and is in the Baghdad Pact—don't like the pact arrangements.

Besides, after their years of experience with the colonial-minded British and French, they are justly sensitive on the subject of colonialism and suspicious of any big power wielding influence in the area.

So this country—and this seems to be the main reason for our not joining—stays out of the pact as added assurance to the Arab world that we have no colonial intentions but only want to help the area.

Up To Our Necks
Since we're actually up to our necks in the Baghdad Pact we seem to be achieving what we want without exposing ourselves to the anti-American propaganda barrages of Egypt and Russia which would be stepped up if we joined.

Yet we could hardly be deeper in the pact if we did join, and this is something both the Russians and the Middle East Arabs know.

While letting ourselves be considered officially only as an associate member, we assure the Baghdad Pact countries we will come to their assistance if they're hit with Communist aggression. The only Communist country in the area is Russia.

But we also extend the same promise to the rest of the Middle East—if they ever need it and ask for it.

Skipped Around Blockade
It could have been hoped—when the pact was created several years ago—that besides its value as a military defense against Russia it would help keep the Soviets out of the Middle East. Some of the member countries lie between the two.

But the Russians just skipped around the roadblock by giving arms to Egypt and help to Syria. They proved two fine starting points for the Soviets to start spreading their influence in the Middle East and into Africa.

But things will really get heated if this country heeds the request of Pakistan, made yesterday at Ankara, for modern weapons as a defense against Russia. The most modern would be missiles.

If missile bases were set up just across the frontier from Russia in the Baghdad area, any complaints the Russians might have about our joining the pact would sound like mild complaints compared with their protests about the bases.

CHURCH DISPUTE

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A dispute between parliament and clergymen of the government-established Swedish Lutheran National Church is boiling toward a climax, with the government favoring a move to allow women to be ordained, and the church synod opposing it. The key question: Can the government override views of the church synod?

EASY MONEY

GOVERNMENT'S CASE AGAINST BUFALINO ENDS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The government ended its case for deportation of Russell Bufalino yesterday with the presentation of evidence intended to show the 34-year-old Kingston, Pa., draper manufacturer had known for many years that he was born abroad.

The deportation proceedings resulted from Bufalino's attendance at what police have described as a gangland meeting at Apalachin, N.Y., last November.

Bufalino described the visit yesterday as a purely social call upon Joseph Barbars at the latter's home.

Offer School Records
The government evidence yesterday consisted of school records as late as 1917, when Bufalino was 14 years old, that stated he was born abroad. None of the records was signed by Bufalino.

Until last week when a ship's manifest showed him to be a native of Montedoro, Sicily, Bufalino insisted he was born in Kingston. Expressing surprise at the Sicily birth report, he explained he had neither birth nor baptismal record and, orphaned at the age of seven, he had been told he was born in the United States by his older sisters.

Other documents presented to inquiry officer Abraham Gold by Morris Perlovsky, immigration service examiner, including Bufalino's marriage certificate and club cards, gave conflicting birth dates. Bufalino said he was unable to account for these discrepancies.

The Case of the VANISHING PROFESSOR

Low pay in too many of our colleges is driving him to seek a higher salary job in business and industry, and we just can't afford this loss—particularly in these times when more and more qualified young people are crowding at the doors of our colleges and universities.

The crisis is present and urgent. To know its full meaning, write for the booklet, "The Closing College Door," Box 36, Times Square Station, New York 36, N.Y. Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council.

Post Office Spells Town Wrong Also

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — Over the years residents of Holdrege became accustomed to having the town's name misspelled "Holdredge" — adding an extra "d."

They didn't pay much attention to mail that some times came addressed that way.

Recently, though, patience began to wear thin when people discovered the Post Office Department had it wrong, too, and was using a cancellation stamp with that darned extra "d."

Ogden Nash's Children Follow His Writing Career

BALTIMORE (P)—Ogden Nash, who did considerable brooding in verse a quarter century ago as the "father of infant female children," today might muse even more on being the father of adult female authors.

For his two female infants, Isabel and Linell, have grown into married women, mothers and both budding authors in their own right.

Isabel, now 24, is Mrs. Frederick Eberstadt of New York. She published her first book, a children's story in verse, last summer. She has a novel due for publication and is working on a third book, also a novel.

Linell, now 25, is Mrs. John Marshall Smith of Ridewater, a suburb of Baltimore, and herself the mother of three female children.

Has Writing Ambitions
Although she has not formally entered her father and sister's select circle, she has ambitions as a writer and is awaiting word on the manuscript of a children's book she sent off to her agent a few weeks ago.

Both are nicks off the Nash noggin.
While sister Isabel inherited her father's talent for versification, Linell picked up his considerable, but little-known, skill as an artist. It is in this medium that she broke into print last fall as illustrator of her father's newest book, "The Christmas That Almost Wasn't."

Did Illustrations At Invitation
She did the illustrations at her father's invitation.

"I was willing to have a go at it," she said, "because it sounded like fun and I wanted to please Daddy. But I doubted that the publisher would think much of the idea. Except for Christmas cards for the family, I hadn't done any art work since boarding school. And I didn't know the first thing about drawing for four-color reproduction."

She said her father started writing the book three years ago but until last January had produced only three pages of verse.

Suddenly Got 'Hot' On Book
"He suddenly got 'hot' on it while he was on a lecture tour," Linell recalls, "and began sending it to me in pieces. By April, it was finished except for minor revisions. That left me three months to do the 40-odd illustrations. I set up a card table in the bedroom to escape the children, turned the radio on full blast and got busy."

"The Christmas That Almost Wasn't" concerns a nasty plot to outlaw Christmas in the fantasy kingdom of Lullapat. Quite apart from accident, the hero and heroine of the tale are named "Nicholas" and "Nell."

"Nicholas Krock who was firm as a rock though only going on 8" is named for Isabel's son who likewise is firm as a rock though only going on 2. And Nell is the namesake of Linell's oldest daughter, an active 5-year-old who says she likes everything about her Granddaddy's book, but especially the part "where I am the princess."

Inspiration For Aunt's Book
Nell also was the inspiration for her Aunt Isabel's first book of rhyme, "Where Did Tuffy Hide," which tells of a small dog's efforts to hide from a playful child. One of her grandfather's books of verse also was dedicated to Nell — "the only grandchild in the world." But that was when she was Nash's only grandchild. He now has four — Linell's three girls and Isabel's boy.

Linell is as free in disregarding the conventional rules of art as her father is free with the conventions of rhyme and meter.

Only One Drawing Rejected
However, only one of the drawings she submitted for "The Christmas That Almost Wasn't" was rejected. It showed a cat with a litter of puppies — a believable family group in Nash's verse but somehow unbelievable in Linell's picture. She admits she should have known better than to follow her father's whimsy to the letter and hope to get away with it.

Isabel, who has wanted to write as long as she can remember, also admits most of her early writings were imitations of her father's verse. She won a literary competition conducted by St. Nicholas Magazine when she was 9. Her first published work, entitled "Christmas Morning," appeared in Seventeen Magazine in 1930, when Isabel was 17.

New Book Based On Trip
Her soon-to-be-published novel, "The Banquet Vanishes," is based on a trip she made abroad when she was still in college. Told in the first person, it recounts the adventures of an 18-year-old who has run away from school.

Isabel is collaborating with her husband, Frederick, on her third

WOULD CONVERT STATE SCHOOLS

HARRISBURG (P)—The State Veterans of Foreign Wars today proposed that Pennsylvania's 14 state teachers colleges be converted into branches of the Pennsylvania State University.

At the same time, the commonwealth would construct three new institutions—one each in eastern, central and western Pennsylvania—to be used as teacher-training colleges.

"With our people completely conscious of the need for educated citizens," said Commander William J. Tepsic, "I don't believe they would object to a special education tax for building the suggested new colleges, or for paying the faculties of the university branches or the teachers colleges decent salaries to keep them in their noble profession."

Tepsic made the proposal in a letter to Gov. Leader in connection with the current two-day conference on education.

literary effort. He is a unit manager for NBC-TV, currently assigned to the "Mr. Wizard" show. So far, Linell's husband—who's in the insurance business—has refused to be drawn into the family artists and authors' society. But he's the last holdout and the pressure is building up.

Gulfstream Park's record payoff was $191.50 for $2 when Gold Beach won on Jan. 3, 1946.

Judges Ask More Juvenile Funds

HARRISBURG (P)—Pennsylvania's judges called today for more funds for probation work and continued study, looking toward a better probation system.

A resolution adopted at the annual State Judicial Conference yesterday urged a public relations program aimed at educating the public on probation problems and members of county commissions, who control appropriation of funds.

The judges, in addition to calling for bigger probation appropriations for efficient, tax-saving probation systems.

Uniform standards for operation of probation offices, within local requirements, and better-trained probation personnel to make worthwhile pre-sentence investigations.

Helpful Teacher Wears Two Casts

CAMPTON, Ky. (P)—Miss Lucy Moore, a school teacher, wore two casts and a look of wonder.

While working around a farm, she fell and broke an arm. She had the arm placed in a cast and resumed her teaching post, until she caught the flu.

Before she recovered, Miss Moore went to help a neighbor desperately ill—and fell down the stairs while collecting medical supplies.

The second cast went on her big toe.

Study Areas For Eradication Drive

READING, Pa. (P)—Southeastern Pennsylvania farmers were told today that a study is underway to determine where a statewide eradication campaign against swine brucellosis and leptospirosis is necessary.

The report was made by Dr. Howard A. Milo to a regional meeting of the Pennsylvania Dairy and Livestock Health Committee, meeting at the nearby Wernersville State Hospital. Dr. Milo is director of the state agriculture department's bureau of Animal Industry.

Today's meeting was the first in a series to continue through February, covering all areas of the state.

Client Not In Court; Is In Jail Instead

OKLAHOMA CITY (P)—Attorney John Booth appeared before District Judge W. R. Wallace Jr. to report that his client was unavoidably detained at Tulsa and couldn't appear for his burglary trial.

Wallace said there had better be a better reason.

Booth explained his client was in the Tulsa jail on two other charges.

PLAN STUDY OF HOSPITAL NEEDS

HARRISBURG (P)—Grass roots study of the state's hospital needs was proposed yesterday by Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro.

Declaring that the state is "woefully lacking" in chronic disease hospitals, high calibre nursing homes, diagnostic centers and rehabilitation centers, Shapiro suggested a commission that would hold hearings in various parts of the commonwealth "to learn about problems on the spot," stimulate local interest and explore "the general problem of financing."

"The provision of an adequate supply of hospital facilities will not be accomplished in a short span of time," he said, "but it will never be accomplished if we do not make a start."

His suggestion was prompted by a report drawn up by the University of Pittsburgh's Graduate school of public health on the state's long-term needs for "a balanced and adequate supply of medical facilities."

The ringneck pheasant was first transplanted to this country from the Orient in 1881. Now it is one of the principal game birds of the United States.
